ADMIRAL PORTER left the city to-day for visit to Newport, R. I.

TREASURY RECEIPTS TO-DAY: Internal

NATIONAL BANK notes were received for redemption to-day to the amount of $136,000. GEN. F. A. WALKER, Superintendent of the Census, has gone to Pittsfield, Mass., on a short visit.

THE CONTRACTS for service on small postal routes throughout the country, and for special service, have been nearly all awarded.

FIRST ASSISTANT POSTMASTER-GENERAL Tynes, who has been visiting the Sweet Springs, returned this morning and was on duty to-day.

CHIEF CLERK CROSBY, of the War De partment, has gone to Fortress Monroe for a short senson of rest and recreation, and Mr. Tweedale is acting in his absence.

JUDGE Upron, Second Comptroller of the Treasury, who has been seriously ill for several weeks, has at last recovered, and was at the office for the first time since his THE SECRETARY OF THE TREASURY has received from an unknown person, through Messrs. Grinnell, Minturn & Co., of New York, $420, to be placed to the credit of the conscience fund.

MIDSHIPMEN H. J. ROBINSON, R. F. Lopez and John L. Purcell have been ordered to the training ship Minnesota, and Midshipmen J. H. Gibbons and E. H. Tillman to the New Hampshire.

JUDGE C. S. SWEET, of the War Department, will leave for a visit to his family in Chicago to-morrow. He has been unremitting in his attentions at the White House since the President was shot, and is now pretty well broken down.

UNDER THE recent reorganization of the force in the Pension Office a number of removals have been necessitated and the decapitated ones received notices to-day that their resignations, to take effect September 1, were required. Other removals are expected next month.

THE MISUSE of United States mail bags by the Canadian postal officials has again attracted the attention of Postmaster-General James, who has written another sharp letter on the subject to the Canadian Postmaster-General, urging him to cause an immediate discontinuance of the evil. As a remedy, Mr. James suggests that the reg-ulation now existing, and always observed here—that each country promply return empty the mails bags of the other—be en-forced.

To be retired. — Paymaster-General Cutter, of the navy, will be retired on the 30th inst. There are a legion of applicants for his place, which can only be filled by the President. Secretary Hunt will probably assign an officer to perform the duties until the President is able to fill the vacancy. Captain Whiting, Chief of the Bureau of Navigation, who is incapacitated from further duty by reason of blindness, will be placed on the retired list as soon as the President is able to select his successor. The business of these maval bureaus will not suffer in the meantime, however.

The vomiting gave rise to more than the usual alarm, as the public generally, as well as the attending surgeons, recognize the fact that unless the irritation of the stomach is remedied and its tone and strength speedily restored, the patient's chances of recovery are exceedingly slim, indeed.

In a fair way of recovery if his stomach can be brought to be from its proper functions. The wound is now considered of less importance. All depends upon the patient's power of taking food. That is the only means of restoring his greatly impaired constitution and putting him in a way of re-covery. The auxiety is still great, but not

The dispatch of Secretary Blaine to Minister Lowell was also very discouraging. It was as follows:

"The President's sleep last night was broken and unrestful. His symptoms throughout the day have been less favorable, and his general condition is not encouraging. He is unable to retain food on his stomach, having vomited twice during the afternoon—the last time at 5 o'clock. This evening he has been able to drink water and retain it. The swelling of the parotid gland has not increased. Pulse and temperature about the same as yesterday. temperature about the same as yesterday. How Dr. Bliss Accounted for the Bad Symptoms.

In an interview last night Dr. Bliss said that the President's restlessuess on Saturday night was probably occasioned by the glandular inflammation and by the phlegm in his throat. The rise in the patient's pulse may have been caused by his wakefulness and the annoyance resulting from the irritation of the throat. When asked about the wound, Dr. Bliss said: "The wound is in excellent condition, and the process of granulation has made it considerably smaller than it was. The tube we inserted was a No. 8 American measuremen catheter, which is quite small. The wound will now hold a little less than two ounces of water, while previous to the commencement of granulation it would hold more than three ounces. That will give you an idea how much smaller it is."

Opinion of Dr. Boynton.

Opinion of Dr. Boynton.

Dr. Boynton said, in substance, that if the irritation of the parotid gland passes away without suppuration he will feel much relieved. He thinks the patient is taking sufficient nourishment to build up upon, and barring further complications he considers the outlook a little more encouraging.

The Doctor was asked if it was not a well-established theory that when irritation presented itself in the form of a swelling, that relief always followed suppuration. He admitted that such was ordinarily the case, "but in the President's condition," said he, "suppuration is not desired, because of the possible injury which might follow.

"What is the nature of the injury feared from the suppuration of the gland." was then asked.

In replying, the Doctor said that it is in-

More Encouraging This Morning.

The bulletin issued this morning was as follows:

EXECUTIVE MANSION, Aug. 22, 8:30 a. m.—The President has not vomited since yesterday afternoon, and this morning has twice asked for and received a small quantity of fluid nourishment by the mouth. He slept more quietly during the night, and this morning his general condition is more encouraging than when the last bulletin was issued. Pulse, 104; temperature, 98.4°; respiration, 18.

This morning's bulletin was of a favor-had received, or low fever were or more or less liable to be affected by septicamia.

Dr. Reyburn's Views. absolutely necessary for him to retain and assimilate nutritive food before any improvement, even, can be hoped for. But, then, if his stomach should regain its vigor, and the first stomach should regain its vigor, the hesitated before answering, but finally and with it there should be a return of appetite, the physicians contend that there in this case as in any case where there had appetite, the physicians contend that there would be no further cause for alarm, as the healing of the wound is progressing nicely, and no further trouble is apprehended on that score.

The Inflamed Gland is now an object of great attention. The swelling has not increased nor diminished, but it is hoped that it will soon yield to treatment and disappear entirely. While it is not exactly a source of danger, it is rewould be no further cause for alarm, as the been so long a time before a wound of this size could be perfectly healed. A low condition of the system was, of course, natural, and septices man meant just that. He said he felt sure the day's vomiting had nothing to do with the wound, except so far as the wound had indirectly caused the parotid swelling, by which the phlegm had been made trouble-some. The vomiting was caused by nothing else but the President's efforts to remove phlegm from the threat. When asked if To the Adjutant-General of the Army.

Washington, D. C.:

The latest from New Mexico is that Lieut.
Taylor, Ninth Cavairy, struck the Indians on the 16th instant, and had quite a fight; captured some horses and captured property. Scouts say there were two white men in the New York of the President's broken rest for the past two nights. It makes his neck feel sore and gives him pain when he recognitions than they were in the afternoon. They did not like to see vomiting recommence. when he moves his head.

His Jaw is a Little Stiff and there is an accumulation in the mouth of phlegm, which is a source of irritation and which cauchy be removed by coughing.

To this cause is stributed the vomiting of much toward keeping up their spirits. There was felt to be no use of denying that creased anxiety. Dr. Reyburn Stated at 10 O'Clock that the President was much better than he was last night, but that there had been no material change in his condition since the morning bulletin. He had asked for something to eat and had been given some koumiss and milk gruel, all of which he had retained. His jaw was still troublesome, but the physicians did not anticipate any danger from that cause. "On the whole," said Dr. Reyburn, "the situation is decidedly more encouraging than last night." Mrs. Edson Evidently Discouraged. Mrs. Dr. Edson, who has been among most sanguine all along, looked cited by the bulletins and dispatches of Saturday, were not realized yesterday. After the morning bulletin had been issued the people again became hopeful. During the afternoon it began to be whispered about that decidedly had symptoms had again exhibited themselves. The appearance of the evening bulletin was accordingly waited for with great anxiety, and it confirmed the worst fears. It was as follows: rather discouraged this morning a very conservative manner:

there is hope yet.' Dr. Bliss Speaks Very Hopefully this morning. He told a Carric reporter at 11:30 o'clock that the President was better in every way than yesterday, even the se-cretion in the wound being better, and his cretion in the wound being better, and his (Dr. B.'s) confidence in the result is by no means shaken. There has been no noticeable change in the President's condition since the morning bulletin. The nourishment given by the mouth since that time has been retained. Dr. Bliss informed Secretary Lincoln this morning that he felt renewed confidence in the President's ultimate recovery.

The Noonday Bulletin.

The noonday bulletin was as follows: Executive Mansion, Aug. 22.—The President has continued this morning to retain liquid nourishment, taken by the mouth as well as by enema. There has been no recurrence of the vomiting and no musea. The parotid swelling is not ma-terially smaller, but continues painless. It has caused for a day or two annoying ac-cumulations of viscid mucous in the back of the mouth, but this symptom has now abated. Pulse, 104; temperature, 98.4°; respiration, 18. D. HAYES AGNEW, D.
